

Rev. Szabo also stated that Rev. Hamborsky had a brother-in-law, who ran a speak-easy on Eastern Ave. near the Pennsylvania Railroad, and he was known as "Frank". Also that he had a cousin named Kotka, a carpenter, who lived somewhere on Hunterdon Road.

The head of the Episcopal Church in the State of New Jersey is Bishop Mathew.

Operative then left Rev. Szabo after thanking him, and he replied that he was willing to give any information he can.

Respectfully submitted:

R.P.T.